Induction Programme

The Department of Geology, Gargaon College organizes an induction program for the newly admitted students. The program aims at engaging the new students in different academic, social as well as cultural activities organised in the Department and also different programs organised in the Institution. Keeping this in view, talks are delivered by the faculty members on career prospects as well as personality growth. In the program, the newly joined students give a brief introduction which includes their past academic background, hobbies cum extracurricular activities and future goals. In addition cultural programs are organised for the students. Both the newly joined students and senior students actively participated in the cultural programs.
