

List and Description of Courses which Addresses Professional Ethics

Course Code	Department	Title	Topic	Description	Syllabus Link
C-306	COMMERCE	Income Tax Laws and Practice	Income Tax Act, 1961	Emphasizes the importance of professional ethics in tax practice.
SE-302	COMMERCE	E-Commerce	Security and Encryption	Focuses on Security and Encryption in e-commerce and explores the IT Act 2000 and Cyber Crimes, and ethical considerations integral to professional conduct in handling cyber issues.
C-204	COMMERCE	Corporate Law	Companies Act, 2013 and Depositories Act, 1996	It underscores the importance of professional ethics in corporate governance, compliance, and decision-making, ensuring integrity, transparency, and accountability in business practices.
C-102	COMMERCE	Business Law	The Indian Contract Act, 1872, The Sale of Goods Act, 1930, The Partnership Act, 1932, The Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008 and The Negotiable Instruments Act 1881	It underscores the significance of professional ethics in legal compliance, decision-making, and fostering trust and integrity in business interactions.

DSE-601	COMMERCE	Labour and Industrial Law	Foundational aspects of labour laws in India,	It delves into specific legislation like the Factories Act, Trade Union Act, and Acts concerning wages and bonuses, highlighting the importance of ethical conduct in ensuring fair treatment, compliance with legal standards, and fostering equitable relationships between employers and employees.
C-613	COMMERCE	Auditing	Comprehensively covers the principles and methods of Auditing.	Emphases to adherence to auditing standards to ensure accurate financial reporting and accountability in business operations.
C-614	COMMERCE	GST Law and Practice	The framework of Indirect Tax in India	Underscore the importance of compliance, accuracy in financial reporting, and ethical behaviour in tax planning and implementation, ensuring transparency and trust in business dealings.
DSE-602	COMMERCE	Financial Statement Analysis	Insights into financial reporting, corporate social responsibility (CSR), and corporate governance.	Students gain an understanding of how adherence to reporting standards and regulatory guidelines promotes integrity, trust, and sustainability in corporate practices, fostering responsible decision-making and stakeholder confidence.
ECNAEC101	ECONOMICS	Foundations of Social Science Research	Social Science Research Ethics	Learns about social sciences research ethics, emphasizing the necessity of maintaining honesty, integrity, and respect for research participants throughout the research process.

EDN 40200	EDUCATION	Teacher Education	Professional ethics within the teaching profession.	It covers the ethical responsibilities and principles that educators must uphold, emphasizing integrity, responsibility, and respect for the dignity of all students. This course aims to prepare future teachers with a strong ethical foundation to navigate the complexities of educational environments and to foster a culture of ethical practice in their professional lives.
C-12	SOCIOLOGY	Sociological Research Methods	Foundational methodologies of sociological research.	Through this course, students gain an understanding of the complexities, philosophical underpinnings, and practical approaches to sociological research.
DSE-04	SOCIOLOGY	Sociology of Work	The evolution and impact of industrialization on work and society.	Covers critical dimensions of work such as alienation, gender issues, unpaid and forced labour, and the informal sector, highlighting the social and political implications. Additionally, the course addresses risks, hazards, and disasters in workplaces, emphasizing health, safety, and risk assessment.
NSS01	Skill Based Courses	NSS and Youth Development	NSS in the context of youth, community, and voluntary service.	Develops a strong foundation in professional ethics. Through practical experiences and yoga, they will adopt healthy living practices, contributing positively to both their personal and community well-being.

NSS02	Skill Based Courses	NSS in Social-economic Development	Sustainable practices, and disaster management	Adhere to professional ethics in their endeavours into environmental issues, sustainable practices, and disaster management, especially in the context of North East India.

Seetha
Principal
Gargaon College
Simaluguri, Sivasagar (Assam)

